Subject: RE: Tower Standard call today- added time

Kristen,

No one has gone through the last set of borings (after MIP-13). I have not received them from REI nor Cascade.

I called Tom Kady to discuss progress- this was not a previously planned call. Chris Saari was not on the call. The reason that Dave Larsen was on the call for a time (not the whole call), was to ask him how we could request comparison charts for discussion with the group. Dave gave Tom the go-ahead to call Cascade and ask them to provide the comparison sheets, which we will use on the call today. Dave could not call Cascade without leaving the site to get phone coverage, and that is why he said that Tom Kady could request the information for him. I never meant to exclude anyone, the call was meant to ask Tom about progress and see when he was available to talk to the group, which he was not on that afternoon due to leaving early to attend a wake for a friend. I notified you by phone message that the group call could not be arranged.

Bob,

I was not present for the last discussion with Tom Katy. Although the Tribe was expecting to participate in this call, the call occurred without us and without notification that the call was occurring. The contractor, State Personnel and yourself went through the last set of boreholes with Tom Katy in a call at the site while the Tribe was waiting at the Natural Resource Building as arranged.

It is unfortunate that the Tribe was not notified that the expected, anticipated, and planned for call was taking place. We have concerns that EPA technical staff are discussing this site with state staff and the state contractor outside of the Tribe. This is also concerning because the Tribe invested 4 days of field time at the site and the call took place during the 1 hour the tribe was not at the site, but rather at the Natural Resource Building (waiting for the call to take place).

Therefore, the Tribe did not get the benefit of going through the last set of borings. We still have interest in the interpretation of the previously discussed borings.

All,

Sherry pointed out that I only scheduled 30 minutes for our call today. That may be enough, but just in case I added another 30 minutes, from 10-10:30 am on the conference line.

Tom Kady will cover the point-to-point comparisons and the boreholes finished after our last discussion.

Talk to you later.

Bob
